

Alert: Washington Proposes IRS Bank Account Reporting

Dear Customers:

A recent proposal in Washington would require banks to report to the IRS on the inflows and outflows of personal and business accounts. Under the proposal, The Citizens Bank of Clovis would be required by the government to report your account information to the IRS.

We care about you and your privacy and want you to know about this potential change proposed by Washington policymakers. If you want to learn more about these issues or share your opinion with Congress, visit banklocally.org/privacy. Click on "Take Action Now" to access a customized letter that will pre-populate and be submitted to your elected officials.

Thank you for being a valued customer of The Citizens Bank of Clovis.

Sincerely,

Kent Carruthers

President
