

Kent Carruthers, President

We're pleased to welcome you to The Citizens Bank of Clovis. We do everything we can to meet your financial needs. Whatever your questions, your goal, your dream, you can count on us.

At The Citizens Bank of Clovis, we deal with more than money. We deal with people. As a committed community bank, there's nothing more important than the people in the communities we serve. Procedures that affect you and your money are determined by people who know you. All decisions are made locally. We've been doing business that way since 1916, and we plan to continue that way – because it works for us and for our customers.

If you aren't already, I invite you to become a Citizens Bank customer. You'll enjoy the convenience of online, telephone, mobile, and ATM banking – products that give you worldwide account access. But, it's the friendly, helpful service you'll value most.
